Construction news and trends, plus a little light-heartedness

Winter 2001

A Firm Foundation The Equitable Building & Loan Association

Shortly after the city of Grand Island was incorporated, a small group of pioneers met and organized what is now The Equitable Building & Loan Association. That was in August 1881; by March 1882 they were open for business, and now after 119 years of stability and growth they have opened another location in Grand Island.

It was a natural fit when Grand Island's oldest business, The Equitable Building & Loan Association, selected Grand Island's most experienced contractor, Lacy Construction Company, for the construction of its new branch bank. According to Larry Hanson, chairman of the board for The Equitable Building & Loan Association, "We selected Lacy Construction Company based upon their reputation of consistency and the quality building projects they have completed over the years."

As is evident in the completed project, quality was an important issue for Equitable. By employing the design services of Cannon and Associates and the construction services of Lacy Construction Company, The Equitable Building & Loan Association has a facility that we will all be proud of for years to come.

Holiday Reflections

The holidays are always a special time, but this past year they took on an even greater significance as we entered the new millennium. Think how few people in the history of the world have experienced such an event. It's been a wonderful time for a number of other reasons, too. Our country is in the midst of its greatest prosperity in decades. Technology has opened vast new worlds to us and created opportunities never before available.

For us at Lacy Construction Company, the real blessings of the holidays have been our hardworking employees, building team partners, corporate friends, clients, and our loving families. These are the heart and soul of our company and the reason for its continued success.

We hope that each of you had a happy and safe holiday, and experience a New Year filled with all the promise that 2001 can offer.
